

About FaxPress

FaxPress is a family of network fax servers that provide a simple way to integrate fax with email, desktop and back-end applications. Users can easily receive faxes in their email inbox, send faxes directly from applications or broadcast thousand of faxes with just one click. FaxPress comes with all the necessary hardware and software, which is why network administrators find FaxPress an easy-to-install and easy-to-manage server appliance that saves time and money.

FaxPress and the Healthcare Industry

FaxPress improves productivity and reduces communication costs for professionals in the healthcare industry. Physicians and their staff are able to communicate quickly and efficiently between offices and hospitals by automatically faxing orders and prescriptions to pharmacies, sending test results, and securely routing critical information concerning medications and patient histories. Network faxing saves on postage and printing costs and offices can be linked through IP routing to reduce long distance charges. FaxPress can be configured to assist organizations in satisfying HIPAA regulations.

About Hewlett Packard MFP's

Castelle FaxPress includes a Drop Directory function which is pre-configured to work with Hewlett Packards LAN FAX function on the Digital Senders for over 6 years and now with the HP MFP network scanners also. Transparent scan to fax capabilities to redirect incremental fax activity through Castelle's central fax server modems is more productive and efficient to handle higher volumes of faxes through fewer fax lines. Customers can eliminate extra phone lines to partially used fax machines, fax modems or boards which are not sharable, to reduce cost of office productivity.
